New Home Design Center Lets Customers Experience Their Design Choices

xxxxxxxxxxxx, NY – October, 2004 – Announcing the grand opening of Home Design Concepts, a revolutionary new home design center where home owners and industry professionals can actually see and experience a myriad of design choices in functional surroundings.

Witness how a slate gray granite counter top works brilliantly with bleached maple wood cabinets. View and touch miniature housing facades and observe how the siding color, window treatment selection, trim style and outside lighting options all work skillfully together. From the newest materials in siding choices and the latest in deck and porch options, to the hottest styles in kitchen cabinetry and hardware options, there is so much to see at Home Design Concepts.

“We wanted to offer our customers a place where they could actually see their design choices at work. We have the latest styles and choice brand names, but most importantly, our design center offers ideas in action. No longer do you have to mix and match colors from a spread of brochures, hoping that everything works together. We show you the finished product as it would look in your home, eliminating any surprises and providing piece of mind,” says General Manager, Jim Morrison.

Find inspiration for just about any building or remodeling project here. Home Design Concepts offers a spectacular showroom with exclusive product lines showcased in practical, working environments. Enter an awe-inspiring world of beautifully designed rooms representing the best in home design choices as you stroll the stunning tiled walkways through artfully decorated room vignettes that include gourmet kitchens, beautiful bathrooms, and inviting recreation rooms.
